Vumii Selected as Top 40 Innovative Georgia Technology Company

ATLANTA, February 26, 2008 - Vumii, a developer of highly engineered yet easy to use long-range surveillance camera systems and graphical user control and image enhancement software, has been selected as one of the Top 40 Innovative Technology companies in Georgia by the Technology Association of Georgia (TAG), the state's leading technology organization.

The TAG Top 40 was chosen based on a number of criteria, including: degree of innovation; scope and financial impact of innovation; likelihood of success; and promotion of Georgia's innovative efforts nationally and internationally. Companies selected to be in the Top 40 will also participate in a showcase exhibit at the Georgia Technology Summit, attracting some 800 of the state's technology leaders.

"Our congratulations to Vumii for making this year's Top 40 list," said Tino Mantella, president of TAG. "Nearly 150 companies applied this year, the highest in the history of the Top 40 program."

Vumii believes the receipt of this prestigious honor acknowledges the company's exponential growth, expanded product line and how its solutions are solving a critical need in the global commercial and governmental outdoor perimeter and border security market.

"We're extremely proud our technological efforts and deployment progress have gained the recognition and respect of an organization such as TAG," said Vumii CEO and co-founder Randall Foster. "There's little doubt that our pioneering efforts have provided an invaluable advantage to customers seeking to prevent and respond to terrorism, theft, vandalism, asset damage, and other physical security threats. Vumii looks forward to continuing to dramatically improve the ability of security personnel to evaluate and rapidly respond to significant risks to their environments."
